

Laxness In Student Election Methods Unfair To Candidates

One hour and a half before the polls closed last Wednesday everyone who had a stake in the Don and Dona election knew the standings of the candidates.

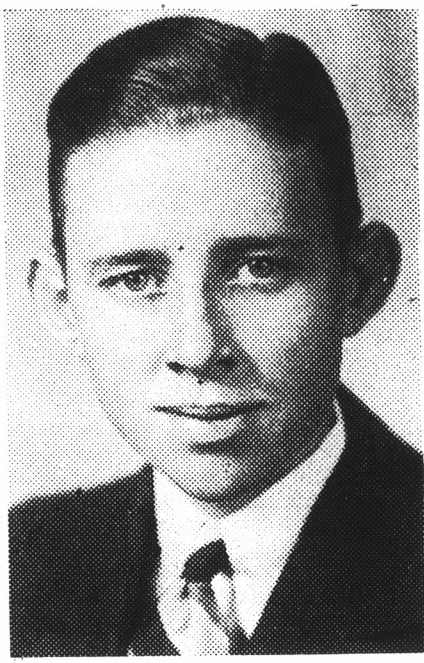

The Dona candidate in third place was within 11 votes of grabbing the second spot and qualifying for the finals. Since the balloting was still in progress, her sponsors ward-heeled around the campus trying to lure enough votes to boot their torchbearer from show to place.

They rounded up some voters but it didn't do much good. When the polls closed, their candidate was 18 votes behind. But had they succeeded, the candidate who originally was in second place could have legitimately demanded a new election.

The laxity of the election board in releasing the vote-by-vote tally before 3 o'clock was inexcusable. It began counting the votes at noon—not in private, but in front of potential voters.

Another thing: why weren't polling booths provided? At times it is difficult for a student to achieve the highest degree of objectivity with some grim face peering over his shoulder. Why was the secret ballot used in minor class elections but not in the Fiesta primaries?

So far the election board's conduct of one of the most important elections of the college year has been notable for sloppiness. May it achieve some efficiency before the finals, next Wednesday.—J.Y.

WALTER SWANBERGER, '39, left last week to enter training as a cadet in the Marine Flying Corps at Jacksonville, Fla. Swanberger, a former Associated Student president, took aeronautics training here, and at USC. MARY BRYANT, sophomore student, will supervise arrangements for the annual Las Meninas May Morning breakfast. She has been named general chairman of the affair by President Beverly Bertmann.

Former Student Relates Life In Western Army Camp

Rising rapidly in army ranks since his entry in the summer of '39 after attending jaysee for one year, Sgt. Richard Ladiges, whose parents reside in this city, wrote to local friends this week relating his experiences and impressions of army life.

Immediately on joining the army, Ladiges was stationed at Fort George Wright in Spokane, Wash., where he played in the army band. A short time later, he transferred to San Francisco, where he attended quartermaster's school for a few weeks and then returned to his Washington post.

BUYER FOR KITCHENS

Here, the former Santa Ana high school and jaysee youth served for several months as buyer for the huge army kitchens.

In February Ladiges visited relatives and friends in this community while on a week's leave and on the day of his return to Washington he was transferred to Cheyenne, Wyo.

STAFF SERGEANT

Of his activities here, Ladiges writes, "I'm staff sergeant in Cooks and Bakers school now although I only taught two weeks and became ill. I made a trip as patrol sergeant to Rockford, Ill., and today Lt. Barrette says I'm making another to Fort Meade, Md. Get to see Washington, D.C., and Baltimore then."

Phi Sigmas Give Annual Concert

Setting May 23 as the date for the annual Sigma Phi Sigma spring concert, members of the honorary music organization met Monday evening at the home of Lela Slaback.

Jeannette Brown was placed in charge of a committee for concert arrangements, aided by Margaret Fields, decorations; Lela Slaback, refreshments; and Ruth Hawley, program chairman.

Navy Films Featured At Tuesday Assembly

Second period classes will be omitted Tuesday to permit the showing of U. S. Navy films at assembly in Willard auditorium. Lt. H. D. Hilton of the Navy Air Corps will be present to explain the films, according to Barney Robinson, commissioner of assemblies. The sound film, "Eyes of the Navy," has never been shown before, Robinson said.

Choir Participates In Music Festival

Following weeks of practice and an eight hour rehearsal with choirs of Southern California Wednesday, a capella choir members will participate in the annual Music Festival to be held in Long Beach next Saturday, it was disclosed today by Director Myrtle A. Martin.

Preceding Saturday's performance, which will be broadcast over a national hookup, choir members will be required to meet for an all-day rehearsal in Long Beach a week from today, it was learned.

Under the direction of Noble Cain, the festival chorus of 800 voices sang last year from the stage of the Shrine auditorium in Los Angeles.

In addition to participating in the mass chorus, the local choir will present its rendition of "Father Abraham" at the music event, Miss Martin revealed.

Engineer Conclave May Be Postponed

Possibility of cancellation of the American Association of Engineers convention scheduled to be held at jaysee by the local club the week-end after Fiesta, was foreseen today by H. O. Russell, club adviser.

Jaysee was selected last year at the Long Beach conference to be this year's host for the annual gathering of Southern California engineering students.

The numerous activities on the campus and the inability to obtain speakers for the convention until the last moment may necessitate the cancellation.

Scheduled for May 17 if held, the convention will be participated in by chapters in the AAE from all Southern California.

Principle speaker whom the local chapter is endeavoring to obtain for the gathering is the past president of the national AAE officers.

Besides regular chapters in the AAE, students from all junior colleges in Orange county who are majoring in engineering will be invited, Haven told.

Jaysee Fiesta Parade Opens Annual Spring Celebration Offer Trophies To Best Horsemen

Fiesta Chairman Jack Clark today stated that plans for the annual college Fiesta parade are well under way and will be one of the big features for the general public.

Clark declared that it will be the biggest Fiesta parade that has ever been staged. Many bands from Orange county high schools have been obtained and many horsemen and horsewomen from the surrounding country have indicated their willingness to participate in the three classes which will be judged for the awarding of prizes.

The three classes are Spanish, western, and silver mounted. Clark said that gold trophies will be awarded to first and second places in each event. Ribbons will be awarded to the third and fourth places.

Clark stated that stage coaches and other old-time riding vehicles have been obtained and will add color to the proceedings.

Maag, Lacy Named For Dona Finals

Primary election results today sent Mary Ann Maag and Elynore Lacy into the finals Wednesday over their defeated rivals, Betty Goode and Ladean Laub, in a closely contested race to determine who will rule as Dona over the annual Santa Ana junior college Fiesta day May 16. The primary was held on the local campus Wednesday.

In the battle for Don, Art Berry won a majority over Bill Kamrath. As there were only two men entered in the contest, Berry will rule over the fourteenth annual jaysee festival.

A final vote on the selection of a Dona will be held on April 30.

Co-captain of the jaysee track team, Berry is a graduate of Garden Grove high school. Miss Lacy is a sophomore and a graduate of Santa Ana high school. Miss Maag, who graduated from Orange, is prominent in jaysee activities and holds the position of secretary of Associated Students.

ART BERRY, jaysee sophomore, garnered enough votes in Wednesday's primary election to outrun his sole opponent, Bill Kamrath, and become the ruler of the annual Fiesta, May 16. He will reign with either Elynore Lacy or Mary Ann Maag, the decision to be made at final elections Wednesday. Berry is co-captain of the track team.

India Discussed By Hindu Lecturer

Speaking last Tuesday at the student body assembly on India's position in the world, Lal Chand Mehra, Hindu lecturer, character actor and technical advisor for many movies, told of India's struggle to become an independent nation.

Major obstacle for the people of India to surmount before they can become a nation is the religious prejudice existing between the two major religious groups, Hindus and Mohammedans. "Before we can become a nation we must unite," Mehra stated.

Under the leadership of Mahatma Gandhi the two groups are rapidly becoming reconciled to the fact that they must unite for the common cause, Mehra indicated.

A Service for Draftees!

El Don enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam today for the duration of World War II and will make regular weekly visits to a score of training camps throughout the nation. It is believed to be the first college paper to extend such a service to alumni in camp.

Following numerous requests, the staff will send the campus weekly free of charge to all Santa Ana jaysee students now in training who care to make personal requests for El Don. A post card, or letter, containing correct address is all that is necessary to secure the paper.

The staff believes that this added service on the part of the paper is a contribution that will be appreciated by those who desire news from "the old home town."

We hope other school, college, and daily newspapers will follow the suggestion and extend a similar service to their boys in the training camps.

Orpheo Programs Featured Before County Schools

Beginning their annual spring tour of Orange county high schools' members of jaysee's Orpheo Troupe will present a program today at Tustin High school.

The Treble Clef with John Stout, violinist; John La Monica, tenor; and Jack Phillips, saxophonist, will be featured. The troupe gave the same program yesterday at Capistrano High school.

Further presentations by members of the music department will take place at Placentia and Orange next Tuesday; Newport on May 7; Huntington Beach, May 8; Garden Grove and Laguna Beach, May 12; Anaheim, May 14; and Santa Ana high school on May 15.

Bill Morris, head of the group this year, said that David Craighead will probably play organ numbers on some of the school programs. Double piano arrangements will also be presented by Craighead and Ruth Hawley at some schools, Morris stated.

Kessler, Blauer Tell Of Eastern Trip

Returning recently from Western State college in Gunnison, Colo., Dick Kessler and John Blauer, former local students, today told of highlights of their trip. Both were forced to return home because jobs were not available at Gunnison.

Kessler stated that Western college has an entirely new campus, with many buildings still under construction. Enrollment was placed at 900.

The Colorado state college, which is 7000 feet above sea level, offers many winter sports, including skiing, tobogganing, and mountain climbing. At the time Kessler and Blauer arrived, winter sports were just completed and spring football was beginning.

Enroute home, the Santa Ana students stopped at the University of Wyoming and met Paul Sedar's brother, Pete, where the latter heads the ROTC unit at the college.

Only mishap of the two weeks trip occurred at Sacramento, where a wreck demolished the car in which they were traveling. No one was injured in the accident.

Astronomy Students Plan Annual Trip

Fifty students have signed to make the annual astronomy trip to Griffith Park planetarium on May 1, Mrs. Jennie L. Tessmann, instructor, said today.

The affair was started several years ago by the class, and is a highlight in the activities of the astronomy classes, Mrs. Tessmann continued.

Los Gauchos Spring Sport Dance Set For Tonight At Lakewood

Final plans were complete today for the tenth annual Los Gauchos Spring Sport dance, to be held at the Lakewood Country club in Long Beach from 9 to 12 this evening. Music for the affair is to be supplied by Don Ricardo and his NBC orchestra.

Committee chairmen in charge of the event included Ralston Anderson and Burr Shafer, location; Art Beard and James Kobayashi, music; and Hoxie Smith, refreshments.

Samae McCorkell designed the advertisement which has been on display on the College hall bulletin board this week. It was mounted and constructed by members of Los Gauchos, with the help of Mrs. Lucinda Burrows, art instructor, and Christine Baird and Miss McCorkell.

Beginning as a "jaleo," the first Gaucho-sponsored Spring Sport dance took place in Huntington Beach in 1932. For the next two years, it was held at the Huntington Beach Memorial hall, and at Santa Ana's Masonic Temple.

In 1935 the dance took place at the Belmont Surf club, and in 1936 it was at the Casino San Clemente. In 1937, Dons and Donas went to the Rio Hondo Club in Downey. Santa Ana Country Club was the site of the 1938 prom, which was preceded by a dinner for Gauchos and their guests at Daniger's.

Guests at the 1939 event went to La Habra Heights, to La Hacienda Country club, and the preceding dinner was served at Knott's. Last year's dance was at the Casino in San Clemente, and the banquet was at Laguna Beach hotel.

Students Attend Newspaper Day

Three jaycee students who attended Redlands university's annual Journalism day last week were Jo Reuter, Vic Heim, and Audree Willsey. Speakers at the event included Mrs. Katherine V. Sinks, Bill Henry, and Ronald Wagoner. The students were accompanied by John H. McCoy.

The conclave, began with a talk on "Ferdinand and the Sacred Cow," by Mrs. Sinks, woman's editor of the Glendale News-Press. Descriptions of several of her more interesting assignments were given by Mrs. Sinks, who emphasized the fact that newspaper work is not always exciting.

Bill Henry, Los Angeles Times columnist, spoke at the University chapel as the next feature of the day's activities. "Front Page People" was his topic, and he told of meeting several European dictators, and covered some of his experiences in the war zone.

Concluding the conferences was a talk by Ronald Wagoner, head of the United Press for Southern California, who spoke on "The Many Sides of Newspaper Work."

Journalism Banquet Set For Tuesday

El Don will sponsor the eighth annual journalism banquet next Tuesday evening at Anaheim union high school. Held in honor of Orange county high schools, the banquet will begin at 6:15.

Prizes will be awarded to schools submitting the best news story, sports story, feature story, and editorial, while other awards go to schools publishing the best paper for 1941.

Judges for this year's contest will be Sam A. Meyer, publisher of the Newport Beach News Times; Mrs. Amy R. Palmer, society editor of the Orange Daily News; and Pete Cooley, Santa Ana Register reporter.

All high school papers in the county were invited to submit entries in competition which is conducted annually by the local journalism department. The Santa Ana high school Generator was judged the best all around paper last year.

Hold Joint Meeting Of German Club

German club members will hold a joint meeting with the Fullerton German club at the local YWCA Wednesday evening, Hermann Stromer, club adviser, revealed today.

Santa Ana's contribution toward the program of the evening will consist of two skits, a song, and two dance numbers, while Fullerton will contribute a skit.

To enliven the program, Mr. Stromer said, a debate in German between the two clubs will be held and a community singing of German songs will be held. The evening's entertainment will be concluded with refreshments.

Hold Club Initiation In Long Beach

Formal initiation of new members into Alpha Mu Gamma will be held May 23 at Long Beach, Miss Lella Watson, club adviser, revealed today.

"The Gamma chapter of Long Beach has invited us over," Miss Watson said, "and a joint initiation of members will take place."

"Because entrance requirements are so rigid," Miss Watson stated, "there were no members in the club during the first semester of the school year, all of last year's members having graduated."

Indicating how strict the requirements are for admittance into the foreign language honor society, Miss Watson pointed out that since its inauguration in 1936, only 23 students have been inducted into the organization.

The initiation was formerly scheduled for last night in the women's lounge, but was postponed when the invitation was received from Long Beach.

CINDERPATH JOKE—

Biggest joke of the cinder season thus far, this week invoked smiles from Don trackmen and caused extreme embarrassment for leather-lunged Joe Amaya, Coach John Ward's two miler. Last Saturday while running the eight-lapper at Los Angeles, Amaya was plodding along nicely on his final turn around the track and was just beginning to sprint in an attempt to catch the boys who were ahead of him.

The swarthy distance man was doing nicely until suddenly two men passed him so fast that he became dismayed and slowed down to nearly a walk. (Encouraging yells from mates forced Amaya to finish.) The two men were running a quarter in a mile relay, but Joe thought they were two-milers. Officials ran two races simultaneously to save time. When an explanation was made, Joe just grinned.

SPRING MEANS PRACTICE

HOME MEET?

Local track fans may get a chance to see the Scarleteer short-panted boys in action on May 13 when the Trojan frosh are scheduled to appear here for a dual meet. This time Ward won't drive to the city if the Trobables don't keep the date.

WHO WOULDN'T?

G. Duncan Wimpers, sports editor of Fullerton Torch, recently wrote a lengthy thesis panning the local cindermen for not winning everything in sight. He recommended that Santa Ana writers take careful inventory of their stock before they make pre-season assertions that the Dons are headed for a National championship. What does he expect? What city wouldn't publicize the fact that they have the best track aggregation in the history of the college? Fullerton not only would have done that but they would probably have given out statistics on how terribly they planned to beat Ward's men.

Santa Ana sports scribes never once mentioned how badly they were going to whip other teams in Southern California. They only printed facts which showed that Santa Ana COULD POSSIBLY have a second national championship in one year. That doesn't mean they WILL.

Santa Ana jaysee track and field forces this afternoon travel to Compton and tangle with the Tartars at 3 p.m. in a meet which could unofficially decide which is the best team in the southland.

Golfers Travel To Chino For Tournament

Facing stiff competition from both the Western and Eastern conference teams, the Don golf team will journey tomorrow to Chino for the annual Southern California Invitational tournament.

Placing third in the Eastern conference Medal play tournament held at Riverside last week, the jaysee divot diggers will attempt to gain revenge over their conference foes. Riverside, winner of the Medal play, and Fullerton, runner-up, are co-favorites to nab the team title.

Doug May, number one man, and Otto Strobel, Riverside's low scorer tied for first in the Riverside tournament with a score of 76. May, Strobel, and Carter Waugh of the Hornets are expected to wage a battle for individual honors at Chino.

The mashie wielders who will represent Santa Ana are: Doug May, Buck Bemis, Pete Woods, Bob Traveler, John Osterman, and reserves Jim Shaw and Ralph Davidson.

Dance Forces Jaysee Swimmers To Rest

Jaysee mermen today were thwarted by social activity and were forced to switch their scheduled match with Los Angeles YMCA from tonight until May 2.

Coach Al Fish stated that because of the Gaucho service club dance, arrangements have been made to hold the meet one week from tonight in the Los Angeles pool.

Koral Sends Klein Against Redskins

Seeking their ninth straight victory and third in conference play, Santa Ana jaysee's slugging baseball squad tomorrow tangles with the San Bernardino Indians on the local diamond at 2:30 p.m.

Still missing from the lineup is Ross Barnes, injured second sacker, whose twisted ankle still hampers his pivot actions at the keystone bag. At present, Dexter Ball is filling in for the ex-Saint star.

KLEIN ON MOUND

Coach Joe Koral stated that Jack Klein, who came here from Chicago prep ranks, will probably open on the mound for the Dons tomorrow afternoon. Klein, twin brother of shortstop Pete, nearly pitched himself into the Hall of Fame when he held Riverside to but one hit last Saturday.

Should Klein falter, Koral will use Bill Hull, Scarleteer football star, because Ralph Barnes is still ailing over a sore arm. However, until Barnes fully recovers, he will play in center field for the Koralmen.

TWO CONFERENCE WINS

At present, the Dons hold a 14-7 victory over Fullerton and a 5-1 win over Riverside's "hitless" Bengals.

Local Playday Set For May 10

Twelve Southern California colleges were invited this week to attend the WAA tennis play-day to be held on May 10 at the local high school.

Other plans furthered at the WAA board meeting this week were for a Mother-Daughter banquet which has been scheduled for May 7. Members also decided to send teams to a play-day at Chaffey jaysee on May 3.

Committees chosen to serve for both the play-day and banquet include: Isabelle Rellstab, Helen Tibbals, and Gwendolyn Bozarth, decorations; Marieta Brown, Marie Riedel, Hollis Tibbals, and Lucille Crawford, food; and Thelma Ameling, entertainment.

Net Team Tangles With San Berdoo

Coach Merle Griset's netmen today were primed for their greatest effort of the racquet season. Tomorrow afternoon, they play host to an invading octet from San Bernardino jaysee in the match which will probably decide the Eastern conference championship.

Replacing Keith Michelson in the number one singles spot is Ralph Gish, slender southpaw from Santa Ana high school. Michelson is out for the remainder of the season due to illness.

Elevated into the second singles spot, vacated by Gish, is Bill Davis, Garden Grove prep player, who as a senior won the Orange county championship.

Boxing Tourney Opens May 15

Jaysee's annual boxing tournament, which is open to all students has been set for May 15, with finals June 5, Coach John Ward said today.

Competition will be held in all divisions as in big-time boxing with the following classes: flyweight, 112 lbs.; batamweight, 118 lbs.; featherweight, 126 lbs.; lightweight, 135 lbs.; welterweight, 143 lbs.; middleweight, 160 lbs.; light-heavyweight, 175 lbs.; and heavyweight, over 175 lbs.

Registration Open For Advance Sheet Metal College Course; Classes To Convene On May 1

Santa Ana Junior college mechanics department officials today announced registrations for a new completion course in airplane sheet metal construction, which will be offered to a limited number of Orange county men.

Scheduled to begin May 1, the course will continue for approximately six weeks. Instruction is designed to equip students for employment in aircraft factories as qualified sheet metal workers, according to Charles Gallagher, in charge of instruction. Absolutely no fees are charged for the class, it was asserted.

ENROLL MONDAY

Applicants may enroll for the course in the jaysee flight office, Tenth and Main streets, from 9 to 11 a.m. next Monday and Tuesday. Classes will meet from 7:30 to 12:20 every week day except Saturday and 12:40 to 5:30 Monday and Wednesday in the jaysee aviation shops on the Santa Ana high school campus, it was indicated.

Enrollment regulations state that students must be 18 years of age or over and have a high school education or its equivalent. Additional requirements stipulate that enrollees must be American citizens and must be able to present a birth certificate.

Opportunities offered by this course will also be opened to a limited number of high school students who will graduate in June, it was announced. However only those who have the permission of their principals and who are over 18 years of age will be allowed to enroll.

Mens' Octet Given Gifts For Concert

Members of the men's octet were presented gifts by the Eastern Star today, after presenting a program of solo and group numbers for the organization at the Masonic temple, Monday evening.

Soloists on the program were Douglas Stephenson of Santa Ana and John LaMonica and Bill Kamrath of Orange. Octette numbers presented were "Alexander," "Spirit Flower," and "Pirate Song."

Following the presentation of their program, Miss Myrtle A. Martin, director of the group, and each member of the octet and its accompanist, Warren Tait, received gifts from the lodge.

Four Students Quit College This Week

Four local co-eds withdrew from college classes this week as they launched new plans for the coming months.

Miss Bobier has returned to Glendale where she will enroll in Glendale junior college next semester.

Margie Carnes, sophomore student, withdrew last week in order to accompany an aunt from Long Beach on an extended tour by automobile to New York. Enroute, Miss Carnes and her aunt will visit many places of interest, the trip covering a period of seven weeks.

Delmar Brown, '30, is working on a Ph.D. degree at Stanford University of California.

Campus Poll Brings Admissions Of Initial Miscue 'Rewards'

Joshed in a voice class this week because of her unusual rendition of "Frankie and Johnnie," Monte Griffith, local music major, unknowingly opened a topic for a campus quiz.

In answering to the "ribbing" given her in class, Mrs. Griffith remarked, "I've been singing 'Frankie and Johnnie' from little on; in fact, I got my first spanking because I sang it instead of 'Where the River Shannon Flows' at a church social."

Other students named their initial miscues and their "rewards." Among them were:

Mary Ann Maag: I was supposed to play the bells in the grammar school band as a first grader. Because I took the wrong cue and played forcefully in a lighter portion of the piece, I was spanked and expelled from the band.

Emily Joost: Miss Killifer spanked me because I told her I didn't like her. Miss Killifer was principal of Killifer school in Orange.

Violet Klingaman: My Daddy spanked me between the second and third floors when I pushed the emergency button in an elevator and we got stuck there.

Miss Martin: I wasn't spanked; my mother used to sing sad songs until I felt bad and promised to be good.

Jimmy Lindley: Another kid and I played barber and shaved our hair off, and did my mother lay it on!

Mary Bryant: I got into some fermented grape juice at the tender age of four and consequently received my just reward by the paddle hand of my father.

Marjorie Johnson: Fond (?) memories of the razor strap that hung behind the door, used too many times to mention here.

Bill Carden: I haven't been spanked since I was a little "tyke" at which time my dad brought out the proverbial hairbrush on certain occasions.

Various Papers Laud El Don Innovations

Innovations created by El Don in its recent El Toro razz edition reached to other schools, it was learned today, when copies of the Whittier college "Quaker Campus," and Center college "Cento," of Kentucky, student newspapers, were received with take-offs on the local El Toro.

Previewing a perfumed ad last December in its Christmas edition, El Don received national recognition in journalistic magazines as well as several inquiries by student newspapers from three different states.

Information sought by the Augustana Mirror, Augustana College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, and the Entree, Plainfield High school, N.J.

Mail Box

SANTA ANA, April 24. (To the Editor of El Don:—) Just what has happened to the bulletin board which was formerly located in front of College hall? A few months ago it was there and now it is gone! On behalf of some of the students, who referred to it for announcements of various dances and student affairs, I believe it should be returned or replaced immediately.

WARREN TAIT
The bulletin board has been removed to the college shops, to be used as a model for a new board constructed of redwood.
